The LIBC-9 form and required accompanying documentation shall be submitted within 10 days of commencing treatment and at least once a month thereafter, as long as treatment continues. If a provider does not submit the required medical reports in the prescribed format, the employer/insurer is not obligated to pay for such treatment until the required report is received by the employer/insurer.

Documentation shall include (where pertinent) claimant's history, diagnosis, description of treatment and services rendered, physical findings and prognosis including whether or not there has been recovery enabling the claimant to return to work with or without limitations, and specific restrictions, if any, regarding return to work. Bills for follow-up visits should include progress/office notes to support the diagnosis and codes billed.

Providers may not charge for documentation supporting a claim for payment. Providers may charge their usual fee for special reports specifically requested by the employer/insurer. All patient information shall be submitted with the knowledge of the patient and must be maintained as confidential by the employer/insurer. The employer/insurer shall not be liable to pay for treatment until the required documents have been provided.

Listed on the reverse are guidelines for the completion of billing forms and submission of records.

Requests for payment of medical bills shall be made either on the HCFA Form 1500 or the UB92 Form, or any successor forms required by HCFA/CMS. Forms must be signed or typed with the name of the provider. Name and signature (if signature is used) must match.

Cost-based providers shall submit a detailed bill including service codes and rev codes consistent with the service codes and rev codes submitted to the Bureau of Workers' Compensation on the detailed charge master.
